

AN UNDER-DEVELOPED TEMPLATE WITHOUT STANDARDIZATION

An American biotechnology company had several clinical study reports across various therapeutic areas, and no clear idea of the template to develop for each study. The Sponsor had the internal initiative to develop a new template, but didn't know where to begin.

Certara Synchronix worked with the Sponsor's existing template in one therapeutic area and standardized it to the Sponsor's unique Style Guide. We mapped this template within the narrative builder features in Synchronix™ Writer through a Master Template Configuration, and were able to reuse this template across other studies. By adding, removing, or editing study-specific template sections for each therapeutic area study, we were able to provide the quality and consistency of template standardization that best met the Sponsor's expansive needs.

Certara Synchronix worked with the Sponsor's existing template in one therapeutic area and standardized it to the Sponsor's unique Style Guide.

Using the narrative builder features in Synchronix™ Writer, we can support your high-volume submission with confidence, while ensuring the same quality and consistency standards we stand by.
